| Comment:  | The bill specifically references "deer." It should likely be amended to include the search for or recovery of game or injured animal. Why, for example, limit this to deer when it just as easily could be elk, bear, exotics, waterfowl, etc.? Also, why is it limited to those animals wounded while lawfully engaged in hunting? Are there other reasons (e.g., road injuries) that should allow for such search and location? |

Priority:

Comment: This bill does not appear to have any reason behind the proposal of materially increasing the classification of felonies from one grade to a higher grade. This may be a bill brought to allow prosecutors to increase the risk of going to trial for a defendant merely as a means of negotiating plea bargains.

Comment: This bill would create a "presumption that a defendant should not be released on the defendant's personal recognizance if the defendant is charged with an offense that involved the use or display of a firearm or resulted in the serious bodily injury or death of the victim." Note that it could apply, as written, to individuals charged with nothing more than "gun free zone" violations or "carry with intent to go armed" violations. Whatever the sponsors' intent, this bill goes too far.

Rep. Butler, Ed

Summary: Creates a Class E felony for altering or defacing a permanent distinguishing number on a firearm and selling, purchasing, or possessing such a firearm with a mandatory minimum sentence of 180 days incarceration. Broadly captioned.

Amendment Summary: Senate Judiciary Committee amendment 1 (004375) enhances the penalty, from a Class A misdemeanor to a Class E felony with a minimum of 180 days incarcerated, for the offense of knowingly and with the intent to conceal or misrepresent the identity of an item, to: (1) alter, cover, deface, destroy, obliterate, or remove the permanent importer's or manufacturer's serial number required by federal law on the barrel, frame, or receiver of the weapon, manufacturer's identification plate, or another permanent distinguishing number; or (2) sell, purchase, or possess such an item, if the item is a firearm or antique firearm.

Priority:

Comment: Proposal violates 2nd Amendment as applied by Bruen, Heller and McDonald. This issue is actually on appeal to the US Supreme Court in Price v. US (see, <https://www.supremecourt.gov/search.aspx?filename=/docket/docketfiles/html/public/24-5937.html> )

Further, the bill, as amended, still creates problems. For example, it states that its a crime to " (A) Alter, cover, deface, destroy, obliterate, or remove the permanent importer's or manufacturer's serial number required by federal law on the barrel, frame, or receiver of the weapon, manufacturer's identification plate, or another permanent distinguishing number from a firearm or antique firearm." How would that language apply to individuals who, for example, "cover" the serial number when they install camo sleeves for hunting purposes or they attach accessories to a firearm that happen to "cover" the serial number? Does that put the burden on the owner to defend a felony charge?

SB256/HB601 CRIMINAL LAW: Request for post-conviction relief.

●●○○○○○○○○○ Sen. Gardenhire, Todd
●●○○○○○○○○○ Rep. Freeman, Bob

Summary: Establishes a procedure through which a district attorney general or person convicted of a criminal offense may, at any time, request post-conviction relief by filing a verified petition alleging actual innocence based on new evidence that was not known by the judge or jury at the time of conviction, including scientific and non-scientific evidence. Specifies that the clerk shall not charge a fee for the filing of such petition. Requires the petition to include allegations of fact supporting each claim for relief and requires the petition and any amended petition to be verified under oath.

Amendment Summary: Senate Judiciary Committee amendment 1 (005629) authorizes a District Attorney General or a person convicted of a criminal offense to file a petition for post-conviction relief (PCR) at any time alleging actual innocence based on new evidence, if a petition has not been previously filed and determined based on the same evidence. Prohibits the court clerk from charging a fee for the filing of the petition. Requires the court to schedule the matter for a hearing if the court determines the petitioner has a valid claim. Authorizes a petitioner to seek relief irrespective of whether guilt was determined following a jury trial, plea of guilty, plea of best interest, or plea of no contest. Requires the court to vacate the petitioner's conviction and order a new trial if the new evidence establishes the petitioner's innocence. Requires the clerk to mail a copy of the petition of relief to the office that is representing the state once received.

Subcommittee

Amendments:

Fiscal Note: (Dated March 1, 2025) OTHER FISCAL IMPACT To the extent a hearing is held and a defendants conviction is vacated, there will be a reduction in state incarceration expenditures. The timing and amount of any sentence reduction is unknown and unable to be determined with reasonable certainty. Any increase in expenditures to General Fund or the Indigent Defense Fund is dependent upon multiple unknown factors and cannot be reasonably quantified.

Senate Status: 03/17/25 - Failed in Senate Judiciary Committee after adopting amendment 1 (005629).

Priority:

Comment: This bill was suddenly amended by the House Sponsor to completely change the effect of the legislation. It now seeks, among other things, to materially change the definition of a machinegun under state law. The problem that this creates is that machineguns already have very technical definitions under federal law and this amendment risks creating state law ambiguities that could give rise to different interpretations of state and federal law. Oppose this rushed proposed change in the law particularly since neither sponsor has a history establishing a clear or strong understanding of either the 2nd Amendment or the Supreme Court's rulings relative to the Second Amendment.

Comment: The bill recklessly adds a lot of additional crimes as "dangerous" to an existing list.

For example, the bill adds "reckless homicide" TCA 39-13-215 as a "dangerous felony". The result is that if someone "possesses" a firearm with the intent to go armed (which we believe is a standard that violates the Supreme Court decision in Bruen) at the time of the offense then the person gets as an additional crime or sentence of from 3 to 10 years in prison with no parole.

Consider, for example, the case of an individual ho was convicted of reckless homicide, a Class D felony. The facts involved a car wreck in which two occupants of the other vehicle died. However, TN and federal law are clear that in Tennessee a "reckless homicide" is a nonviolent felony. Indeed, at least one Tennessee appellate court and one federal court have reached the same conclusion:

/quote/

We decline, however, to characterize reckless homicide as a crime of violence because it requires reckless conduct rather than intentional or knowing conduct. See United States v. Portela, 469 F.3d 496, 499 (6th Cir.2006) (holding that Tennessee's vehicular assault statute, with the requisite mens rea of recklessness, was not a crime of violence under the United States Sentencing Guidelines). Because the defendant's reckless homicide conviction was not a violent felony, we decline to weigh it more heavily against his credibility than other non-violent felonies.

//endquote//

See, State v. Parham, 2010 WL 2898785, at *8 (Tenn.Crim.App.,2010)

This legislation seeks to elevate a non-violent felony conviction to a "dangerous felony" – a term that suggests at a minimum that there be some mens rea that would warrant a finding of knowing or intentional violence as opposed to recklessness.

Further, under the legislation if the individual had a firearm in their possession, e.g., a longarm for which there are few affirmative defenses under TN law, such that it qualified under the "intent to go armed" clause then a person committing a nonviolent felony which the state established was reckless but not either intentional nor knowing would be sentenced from 3 to 10 years in prison even if the normal consequence of the sentencing statutes called for no prison time at all for the underlying crime.

Provides that such a temporary group hunting event permit must be for a duration that is no longer than the duration of the hunting experience for which the permit is issued, but in no event may the permit be valid for more than seven days. Such hunting experience must comply with all applicable laws, regulations, and proclamations. Requires participants to provide all information necessary to obtain an individual hunting license in connection with a temporary group hunting event permit, and none of the cost for the permit must be borne by the disabled veteran participant. Requires the executive director, or the executive director's designee, to accept as evidence of service-connected disability a certification from the veterans' administration. Provides that in order to account for lost federal funding to the agency and to comply with present law, the executive director, or the executive director's designee, may collect all pertinent and relevant information to certify the unique individuals taking part in the hunting experience under a temporary group hunting event permit. Authorizes the Tennessee fish and wildlife commission to promulgate rules necessary to effectuate this amendment.
